CHARGE Anywhere® Wins the BlackBerry® Partner Funds Challenge

South Plainfield, NJ (October 1, 2010) - CHARGE Anywhere® has been chosen as a Regional Selection Winner in the 2010 BlackBerry® Partners Fund Super Apps Developer Challenge. The award was provided to the companies that have demonstrated overall excellence in developing and enabling applications that meet Super App characteristics for application development, integration and end-user experience.

As a Research In Motion ISV Enterprise Select Alliance partner, CHARGE Anywhere was able to develop and bring to market a Super Application for Mobile Payments and card acceptance at the Point-of-Sale (POS). Being selected as a Regional Winner puts CHARGE Anywhere in an exclusive circle of future-ready organizations that have also been recognized in the competition. Other companies who have been recognized are, The Yellow Pages Group, CNN Money, Dictionary.com, PIONEER Corporation, NBA Digital and Cisco Systems. "We are delighted to bring award-winning, PCI-validated payment solutions to the market in Alliance Partnership with RIM. This is the 5th time in the past 24 months that CHARGE Anywhere has been recognized for its excellence in software development and the delivery of its industry-leading card payment solutions for the benefit of mobile merchants in the US and Canada," said Dmitriy Lerman, Director of Marketing at CHARGE Anywhere.

CHARGE Anywhere's mobile payment POS solutions are PCI PA DSS validated for every BlackBerry® smartphone, including the latest, the BlackBerry® Torch 9800. With CHARGE Anywhere, all BlackBerry® smartphones enable merchants to quickly, easily and securely accept credit, debit, prepaid and gift card payments and manage their business at the point-of-sale or point-of-service anytime, anywhere.

The solution offers unique business data collection features, including driver/clerk name capability and more, plus the ability to record the GPS location of events/transactions, integrated back office accounting, multiple real-time reporting options, a Bluetooth® card swiper with receipt printer, electronic signature capture on compatible touch screen BlackBerry® smartphones and many more business savvy features.

CHARGE Anywhere's mobile payment solution is more than just a PCI-secure, award-winning card acceptance platform; it is a full business management suite on-the-go. Now, CHARGE Anywhere has also been recognized as one of the BlackBerry® Super

Apps, "Apps that deliver the most engaging experiences possible for BlackBerry® users," according to <http://www.blackberrydevcon.com/special-programs/challenge>

CHARGE Anywhere continues to win awards for its industry-leading multi-platform Smartphone payment solutions. CHARGE Anywhere's mobile payments solutions are winners of the 2010 CTIA E-Tech Awards in the Mobile Applications - Mobile Payments Category, the 2010 Mobile Merit Awards for Best Overall Enabler Application, the 2009 Best of Interop-PCI Security Solution Award and the 2009 Electronic Transaction Association Technology Innovation Award.
